THE IMPORTANCE OF REPORTING PEER ON PEER ABUSE

1

Know what Peer on Peer abuse is and what forms it can take

2

Recognise that it is wrong, and it does not have to be an accepted part of being a teenager

3

Understand that you can do something about it and reporting it is easier than you might think

WHAT IS ONLINE SEXUAL HARASSMENT?

What is online sexual

Any unwanted sexual behaviour that occurs online.

It happens in many forms across many services and could be public or private.

What does the law say?

There are some laws that apply including:

Protection of Children Act 1978

To take, share or possess a nude or sexually explicit photo of someone under 18 is illegal.

Malicious Communications Act 2003

Sending any form of message, including online, that is extremely offensive, obscene, menacing or indecent can break the law if sent on purpose.

Computer Misuse Act 1990

It can be illegal to impersonate or steal someone's identity online.

Even if it doesn't break the law,

If it's unwanted, then it's unacceptable.

WHO WOULD YOU TELL?

How do I tell

Write it down and pass it to a teacher.

Speak with a friend and then tell a teacher together.

Ask a teacher for a private conversation.

“Something has happened online and I need to speak to you about it.”

YOU CAN REPORT PEER ON PEER ABUSE TO ANY MEMBER OF STAFF IN SCHOOL

We will listen and take it seriously

We will offer support and guidance to help you move forward

We will respect your privacy but may have to share what you have told us with the Safeguarding Team Mrs Williams and Mrs Williams

The background is a dark blue gradient with a field of small white stars. Overlaid on this are several technical diagrams in a lighter blue color. These include circular gauges with numerical scales (e.g., 100, 110, 120, 130, 140, 150, 160, 170, 180, 190, 200, 210) and arrows, and circular arrows indicating a clockwise direction. The diagrams are positioned in the top-left, top-right, and bottom-left corners.

Why should I report?

Hey Alex,
I spoke to Mr Green
at school about what's been happening. He's b😊n so helpful!

I feel so much better.
This is going to get sorted - I just know it.

I really think you should speak to him too...

PUT AN END TO ONLINE SEXUAL HARASSMENT – WHAT WILL YOU DO?

We need your help

As a school we want to take action on online sexual harassment. We want to increase reporting and offer support.

But we can't do it alone...
YOU need to take action too

It's over to you

Support...

your friends and classmates

Encourage...

and help with reporting to an adult

Report it...

when you see it online

Call out...

unwelcome behaviour—
don't go along with it
